

COUNSELING RESOURCES LIST

A photocopy of this form will be as valid as the original.

Public health authorities urge that everyone become educated about how to protect themselves from HIV infection. If you have any questions or concerns, your own physician or health care provider is your best source of information. Other counseling services may also be available to you.

As required by California law, the following list of counseling resources is being provided to you. It was compiled from publicly available information which is subject to change without notice. Therefore, CROWN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY makes no representations or warranties that this information is accurate as of the date you receive this list. Also CROWN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY makes no representations or warranties about the quality or nature of any services these resources may provide.

This is not a complete list of all resources that may be available to you. We suggest that you contact your own physician or health care provider, your county health department of your local chapter of the American Red Cross, for further information.
